Sarah Moore named to Stanley K. Lacy Executive Leadership Series Class XXXVI

Sarah Moore, Vice President of Strategic Growth Initiatives, will have the opportunity to advance her community leadership interests as a member of Class XXXVI of the Stanley K. Lacy Executive Leadership Series.

Moore is one of 25 young professionals to be accepted into the series, a highly competitive program that seeks to expand the ranks of community leaders by teaching and motivating members to address the needs of central Indiana.

“I am honored to have been chosen to participate in SKL, which has helped many of central Indiana’s most prominent leaders become more effective community leaders,” Moore said. “It’s humbling to have the opportunity to follow in their footsteps and have the opportunity to make a lasting contribution to our region.”

Class members are chosen because of their significant community involvement and professional achievement; their demonstrated interest in community issues; a record of participation and achievement in voluntary community activities; and their willingness to expand their leadership role in the community.

Teresa Lubbers, Commissioner, Indiana Commission for Higher Education, has been named Moderator for Class XXXVI. To ensure that the series is timely and topical, each class’s moderator identifies aspects of broad economic and societal issues that are specific to central Indiana for the class to study.

Class XXXVI will meet monthly from September through June. Participants will interact with local leaders, professional experts and community decision makers to discuss issues such as the region’s quality of life, education and economic development.
